"Thirty years ago Marty and I moved to Kitsap, looking for a place where we could start our family, grow our business, and help our community care for its own.

When we began to consider our legacy and what we wanted our children to remember, it was clear giving back to the community where we had found success was paramount. We want to ensure Kitsap will thrive long after we are gone. The community of Kitsap helped us be successful and we want to keep our gifts and assets in this community."
